

Integra Appoints New Chief Operating Officer

Grand Rapids, MI - Integra, Inc. has hired Michael E. McCombs as Chief Operating Officer. Mr. McCombs will oversee day-to-day operations and help the company maximize business opportunities in an ever-shifting technological environment.

“This is turning out to be an unprecedented period of growth and expansion of services for Integra,” says Bob Glover, Chief Sales and Marketing Officer. “Mike has the knowledge and experience to help us manage these changes internally while ensuring we stay firmly focused on customer needs.”

McCombs comes to Integra from HOV Services (formerly Lason, Inc.), a global leader in business process outsourcing whose customers include more than 50% of Fortune 100® companies. Most recently, McCombs served as Vice President/General Manager of the company's Output Division, a print/mail/fulfillment operation.

Integra, Inc. is a full-service design, print and fulfillment company that serves a nationwide customer base from its headquarters in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Since its founding as a printer in the 1930s, Integra has evolved into a multifunctional resource offering companies greater control over the integrity of their brands.
